DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1,90-92,94,98-101 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nolting et al. US PN 6,488,701.
3. Nolting disclose in figure 2 and lines 35-57 of col. 7 a balloon expandable stent comprising a first end portion having at least one surface comprising a coating 34 which is not present on the middle portion. The coating is described to include a polymer or drug and may have a radiopaque marker loaded therein meeting the limitations of claims 90,91,94. Regarding claims 98-99, the ends of the stent are inherently more flexible or looser than the middle of the stent because the curves on the end of the stent are not attached to adjacent curved portions.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1,90-101 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,652,575 in view of Alt US PN 6,159,142. Claims 1-12 of '575 patent encompass the subject matter of pending claims 1,90-101 except the patented claims fail to expressly disclose the stent being made of balloon expandable stainless steel. Alt teach in liens 6-28 of col. 8 that it is well known to make stents of balloon expandable stainless steel in order to prevent restenosis.

6. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the claims of 6,652,575 to include balloon expandable stainless steel in order to prevent restenosis.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,90-101 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
